

Lujie Wang

An innovative strategy for the development of music therapy program in China

Abstract:

Yueling Music Therapy Service Center, founded by Lujie Wang, is a public interest organization that provides professional music therapy services in great Chengdu area. During several years since it established, Yueling team developed very good co-operative relationship with government, hospitals, special education schools and institutions and several foundations. Lujie' s team also successfully established music therapy programs in multiple institutions and their programs got a healthy and sustainable development. Government awarded music therapy programs served by Yueling for multiple times for its high quality services and positive social influences. The success of Yueling' s development could be a valuable example for Chinese music therapists and music therapy project operators.