

Alex Doman

IAMM China 2016

Keynote Presentation: Healing at the Speed of Sound; Transforming Lives Through Music

The use of music as medicine has been well documented for millennia, yet in the last three decades there has been a seemingly exponential increase in awareness and interest in this ancient form of healing. This talk will explore the present state of applied music and sound, including advancements in public awareness, science, and the use of technology in the field of music medicine in healthcare, education, and personal wellness.