

Jia Chen was born in Fuzhou, Fujian province, began to learn the piano at the age of 7 and was admitted by Fujian Normal University after graduating from junior middle school , majoring in piano and received her BA and MA in musicology in 2003 and 2006 respectively.

From 2006, she engaged in teaching playing the piano , piano accompaniment and preschool children's music teaching in School of Education Science at Quanzhou Normal University.

From 2014, she worked as a volunteer in Quanzhou Autism Rehabilitation Centers, teaching music for autistic children .

In 2015, Chen Jia studied in Beijing Gaotian Music Therapy Center and attained the qualification certificate of “practice music therapists” . Now she continues to be a volunteer at Quanzhou Shengda Autism Rehabilitation Center, arranging a fixed time every week for autistic children in music therapy.

She went to Quanzhou Legou Fangzhou Kindergarten and Fuzhou Welfare House for the autism and ADHD children in music therapy.

Chen Jia also undertakes research of a key project of Fujian province "On study of autistic children of music therapy”. More and more people begin to pay close attention to the autism children, and work as volunteers for these special children.